Harris-Davis Nuptials.

A pretty little wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the Christian church when Miss Ethelwyn Harris of this city became the bride of Frank A. Davis of Los Angeles. The marriage was a very simple one. There were no attendants, the bride being married in a dark blue traveling suit with a becoming little hat to match. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with white calla lilies, palms and ferns. An informal reception followed the wedding, after which the bride and groom motored down to the Lurline, sailing at six o'clock for San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will spend their honeymoon in San Jose and Modesto, visiting relatives of the bride, after which they will locate in Los Angeles, where Mr. Davis has business interests.

Mrs. Blake's Bridge Luncheon.

Lavender double petunias were the flowers Mrs. Blake of Manoa valley selected for the attractive decorations at her bridge luncheon Monday. These lovely and most unusual blossoms, in conjunction with mauve colored place cards and favor made a beautiful table. Twelve ladies were present to enjoy the informal luncheon and afterwards an interesting game of bridge. The highest honors for the latter went to Miss Jessie Smith, while Mrs. Fred Bush was lucky enough to win the consolation. Those present at this lavender luncheon were Mrs. Philip Frear, Mrs. John Drew, Mrs. E. Clair Sayres, Mrs. A. N. Nowell, Mrs. Fred Lyser, Mrs. Guy Gere, Mrs. Percy Morse, Miss Jessie Smith, Mrs. Fred Bush, Mrs. Marquis and Miss Alberta Marquis.

Mrs. Macomb, Mrs. Timberlake, Mrs. Charles Wilder and Mrs. Adams accompanied her, and a very pleasant afternoon was spent around the bridge table, the quintet returning to town that evening.

The famous Japanese woman's ability to judge affairs from two viewpoints, critically from American standards and sympathetically with the understanding of the Japanese, makes her opinions doubly valuable to the thinking world.

Prince Chu Was Brave Warrior In Days of Old

C. Y. Kwai, in role of Prince Chu, in Chinese drama, "Princess Sah Yit-Neo."

C. Y. KWAI TO ASSAY ROLE IN THE PRODUCTION OF CHINESE DRAMA

Prince Chu, the leading role in the Chinese drama, "Princess Sah Yit-Neo," which will be presented at Charles R. Bishop Hall Saturday evening, May 24, by a company of Chinese players, is a spectacular character in Chinese history. Prince Chu was among the bravest of the warriors in the days of the Ming Dynasty, some three centuries ago. Not only was he a brave soldier, but, as is the custom with warriors, past and present, he also excelled in the art of love; being successful in winning the hand of a beautiful princess, who had met favor in the eyes of the king.

The role of Prince Chu will be essayed by C. Y. Kwai, who, a few years ago, was a student in the local schools and whose bent for theatricals has led him to the ranks of the professionals, where he has scored a decided success.

The patronesses of the affair are: Mesdames Frear, Chen Ching Ho, Mott-Smith, Castle, Dillingham, Withington, Emerson, Westervelt, Damon, Horne, and Richards.

Reserved seats are now on sale.

GIRLS! GIRLS! SURELY TRY THIS! DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

All You Need is a 25 cent Bottle of "Danderine"—Hair Gets Lustrous, Fluffy and Abundant At Once

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits, particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use of Danderine, when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

BILLY REEVES IS HIT ON SHIPBOARD

It was in the beautiful and spacious social hall in the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia, where were seated two hundred or more passengers, enjoying a pleasing impromptu entertainment and concert, that had been arranged through the efforts of Captain Emory Rice, Purser "Mose" Hunt and others connected with the accommodating staff of officials, when a prosperous looking business man, faultlessly arrayed in evening habiliments, of the latest mode, apparently considerably under the influence of something more potent than usually comes out of a syphon bottle, lurched in the center of the group of people, and then things happened.

A modest young man, who made no pretense of possessing a voice of the volume or range of a caruso, had been prevailed upon to add his mite to the program. He was in the act of rendering a song, when the stranger charged into the arena and without a word, but through a series of gestures, most strongly and formally expressed his disapproval of this particular feature of the entertainment.

Captain Rice, while quietly standing by near the door leading into the saloon, immediately realized that a "scene" was imminent. Calling aside a couple of his officers, he spoke a few words, which caused several sturdy young men to step forward and gather the surprised disturber of the peace from off his feet and a few minutes later deposit him in the cool of the promenade deck.

Explanations were then in order. The gentleman whose actions had amused rather than angered, proclaimed his identity. He was the famous Billy Reeves, the "original drunk," headliner in the Zeigfeld circuit, a star with Miss Anna Held, who was a passenger in the Pacific Mailer for Honolulu, where he is under contract for two weeks at the Bijou theater.

New and startling changes are in order for Thursday night's program at the Bijou. The management has posted $25 as a reward or prize to the local celebrity who can succeed in throwing the California bear, Miss Alice Teddy. Ten minutes is allowed to perform the trick. The animal act has caught on in earnest with the little folks as well as their elders.

The Bijou was again packed last night, when Bert Wiggins and his musical comedy and juggling turn was on the boards.

A change in pictures nightly is the rule at this house.

PACKING HINTS.

See that the top of the talcum powder can is tightly closed.

Take as few bottles as are needed and see that the necessary ones are well wrapped in soiled clothes, the kimono, or some other soft material. Wrap shoes individually in soiled clothes or newspapers. This saves space.

If there are framed pictures, place them in the folds of a comfort or between pillows. If these are not available, skirts may be used.

Place books flatly on the bottom of the trunk.

Collars may be folded together in paper if a collar bag is not owned.

Clean handkerchiefs should be placed between laundered clothes if a handkerchief box is not in the belongings.

Posters or other papers to be preserved in smooth condition may be laid on the bottom of the trunk.

The chafing dish may be made to hold trinkets, or, if the lid is not to be tied on, may afford space for a package.

If the tray is heavily packed, be sure that it is well supported.
